Mrs. Buckler gave a character sketch of Jean D'Albret, followed by a sketch of Coligny by Miss Searle.
Miss Jackson, in giving the literary review, gave pleasing glimpses into the lives of several literary characters.

Mothers' Club.

Provo, Nov. 11.—The Mothers' club met last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. T. H. Cluff in the Fourth ward.

In the absence of Professor Brimhall, Professor W. M. Wolfe gave a delightful lecture on "Early Christian Mothers."

OGDEN CLUBS.

The Agnia.
Ogden, Nov. 11.—The Agnia held its regular meeting on Tuesday last at the home of Mrs. Boreman. Mrs. Rankin tendered her resignation as secretary and Mrs. Gideon was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Eddy was then elected to membership.

The first number of the programme was an interesting report by Mrs. Hurst from the federation recently held in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Coulter then spoke of the federation and a few of the many excellent points discussed which had interested her.

Mrs. Smith gave a short report from the W. C. T. U. convention which she recently attended in Seattle.

Roll call was then responded to with quotations from George Eliot.
In the absence of Mrs. Nye, Mrs. Gideon read a selection from "Adam Bede," which was followed by Dr. Aucutt's excellent paper on "George Eliot, the Woman and Novelist." After a short discussion of the paper by Mrs. Smith, the club adjourned to meet in two weeks with Miss Walker.

The guests of the club were Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Briggs and Miss Crocker.

A Expert.

(Philadelphia North American.)
"How vigorously the bandmaster beats the air."

"Yes, but that's not a marker to the way he beats the mungins."

A Gentle Hint.

(Philadelphia North American.)
"Dreaming of the future," he asked, as the conversation passed for the fifth time, "I've always realized, and it's much pleasanter than living in the present."

Miss Josie Morris, who teaches in the Richfield schools, called upon Miss Bowman at the Lincoln school on Thursday.

Miss Lily T. Roche, formerly of the Hamilton school, is now engaged in the insurance business in Rochester, N. Y. R. E. Evans, the florist, had the courtesy to send beautiful bouquets of flowers to all the teachers of the city, a gift which is heartily appreciated.

The membership list of the Utah State Teachers' association is increasing rapidly, and the enrollment will be the largest in the history of the organization. Thus far no teacher in the city or county has refused to become a member.

The walls of the beginners' room at the Wasatch are adorned with a picture of Bodenhansen's Madonna, the gift of Mesdames Igleheart, Miles and Leary.

Harry Warner, formerly a student in the high school, is now shipping clerk of the Fulton Bag & Cotton company at New Orleans.

A meeting of the grammar section of the Salt Lake County Teachers' association will be held in the city and county building on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 10:30 o'clock. "Reading" will be the subject under consideration.

School and Home Education, published at Bloomington, Ill., has these appreciative words concerning Superintendent F. B. Cooper of this city: "It is a matter of felicitation that Superintendent F. B. Cooper has made so favorable an impression in Salt Lake, and few men in public life in that place have so steadily and quickly grown in favor. He is a man of broad ideas, full of sympathy with the teachers, and of excellent endowments. The work is prospering under his charge."

A meeting of the principals of the city schools was held on Wednesday afternoon. A request was made from Superintendent Cooper that the courses of study be so modified as to require hygiene to be taught two successive months of the year, instead of once a week during the year under the present arrangement. The request will be granted.

Quite a list of classics has been added to the supplementary reading list, and teachers and pupils will be greatly pleased. Lights to Literature, "The Story of Ulysses," "Robinson Crusoe," and "Tales of Troy" are among the list. The second grade meeting, which was scheduled to be held on Tuesday next at the city and county building, will be held at the Ogden school at that time.

The committee of the board of education has not as yet decided as to the time of opening and closing the schools during the winter months. A consensus of opinion was recently secured from the principals of the city schools, with the result that a majority favored opening at 9 o'clock.

The eighth grade pupils at the Wasatch school are publishing the Wasatch Reporter, and are quite successful journalists.

Misses Lorine Leary and Vida Richards have presented a beautiful picture to the eighth grade at the Wasatch school.

The teachers of the Ogden school are decorating their rooms very artistically.

One of the most successful of the parents' meetings thus far held this year occurred at the Whitcomb school on Wednesday. The beginners' room was most tastefully decorated with pictures, the windows adorned with handsome curtains, and added to these attractions were the soft folds of the American flag to form a background. The room was full of flowers, and Miss Potter received many compliments for the occasion.

Next Friday will be spent by the teachers and students of the L. D. S. college in celebrating the anniversary of the founding of the institution. An interesting programme will be given in the lecture hall of the Templeton, after which the teachers and students will go to the social hall, where luncheon will be served. Sports of an entertaining nature will be engaged in in the afternoon, and in the evening a grand ball will be given in Christensen's hall.

A free course of study in the Book of Mormon will be offered this winter by the Latter-day Saints' college, beginning next Monday evening, Nov. 13, at 8 o'clock, in the lecture hall at the Templeton. In the first session Professor Mills will speak on "What is the Book of Mormon?" All are invited.

The pupils of the Hamilton school have organized a band, which renders efficient service as an aid in marching.

An exhibition of famous pictures or reproductions of famous pictures, with a short description of some of the pictures, will be given at the Ogden within the next two weeks.

The eighth grade at the Washington school gave an interesting programme on Friday afternoon and was listened to with deep interest. The first number of the programme was roll call, answered by quotations, the other features being piano and vocal solos, recitations, declamations, the reading of the Washington Charter, a guitar and mandolin duet, and a brief address by Miss Quattrone, principal of the Washington.

The recitation by Miss Irene Eekers, the talk on Longfellow by Miss Amy Lyman, and the guitar and mandolin duet by Penn and Amasa Barton, were worthy of special mention.

A copy of "Wheeler's Graded Studies in Great Authors" has recently been received. From the names of the inspiring faces of Tennyson, Byron, Longfellow and many others. The author has recognized what was observed in his work in language, that nothing is more refining than good pictures, and has given us the portraits of men famous in literature.

Box Elder County.

Superintendent J. D. Peters has just returned from a sixteen days' trip to the western part of Box Elder county. He reports the schools of that section in a good condition.

There is a marked improvement in the governing power, teaching ability, tact and records of the teachers, and the school is out of the red, and the pupils. Although the schools are mixed, the state course of study is followed and thereby a unanimity of work no longer gives way to random and haphazard ways. The trustees, as a rule, perform their duties well and make good preparations for the teachers and pupils.

The prospects are that the schools in that part of the county, which includes the Promontory, and all west of it to the Nevada line, keep up the full nine months.

With the prosperity of the people and the condition of the country there is no reason why the schools cannot be made sufficiently thorough to meet the requirements of every pupil until he has passed out of the eighth grade.

The teachers institute of Box Elder county will be held in Brigham City, Nov. 18. Professors Edwin Evans and Horace Cummings of the university will address the teachers.

The monthly meeting of the Brigham City Teachers' association will be held Monday, Nov. 19. An interesting programme has been prepared. The Brigham City met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. E. Sullivan.

Great interest in the Brigham High school is manifested by parents and students.

Branch Normal.

On Saturday the geology class will visit the coal mines in Coal Creek canyon.

The Students' society elected a new corps of officers last Friday. Everybody that attended the instructors' reception had a good time.

Saturday is to be made a great day in the history of the athletic association. The students are very enthusiastic over the matter of making good grounds for the sports and games, and the ball and supper lends a decided charm.

University Notes.

The registration of students at the university is now 615.

Chapel exercises were conducted last week by Professor W. G. Roylance. The subject of his various talks was "Individualism."

The College Women initiated two new members last Friday, Misses Mabel Wallace and Claire Ellerbeck. After the ceremonies of initiation were over, the girls entertained President and Mrs. Kingsbury, Professor Seward and wife, and Mr. Mills. All had a pleasant time. The club has now entertained all the new members of the faculty.

One of Mr. Young's classes in United States history and civics, paid a visit to the city police court last night. Judge Timmony was puzzled to know what it all meant.

The entire corps of Richfield teachers, under the supervision of Mr. O. J. Call, recently graduated, visited the Lewis and Clark training school during last week.

The lecture given last Friday night by Hon. Henry W. Lawrence, of the laboratory building, was an able discussion upon the subject of "Paper Money."

The classes in United States History are doing some practical work in civil government. Each of the four sections last week went through all the ceremonies of an election in a city of the first class. Districts were made, primaries were held, tickets were put in the field, and results reached by recourse to the ballot box. In connection with the study of the New England town meeting, the students went to carry on an election in a town of the third class. Party calls will be made for primaries and a regular campaign organized. The city council elected will then hold sessions to discuss local needs and reforms.

Devotional exercises will be led next week by Professor R. R. Lyman.

In response to an invitation from Dr. John R. Park, inviting the university and normal school to make an exhibit in the state fair next fall, the faculty last Monday appointed a committee to outline and superintend the preparation of such an exhibit. The committee consists of Professor Cummings and Bradford, and Mr. McKnight.

The Delta Phi last Monday elected the following officers: President, Ernest Bramwell; vice president, Seth F. Rigby; secretary and treasurer, Leonard Thomsen; members of the standing committee, John Evans and George S. Gibbs.

The senior football team will play a game with the Ninth cavalry boys tomorrow at 3:30 upon the university campus.

To complete the study of the work of the constitutional convention of 1895, the classes in Advanced American History will organize a convention and dramatize as nearly as possible the proceedings of the original session. This study will occupy about two months of work.

D. V. Hyde, captain of the senior football team, is suffering from the dislocation of one of the small bones in his foot. He hopes to be able to play again next week.

Jay Groo, who was injured in the football game with the soldiers at Fort Eccles, is back at school.

Dr. Talmage's geology classes left the city at 8:30 yesterday morning to make a field excursion to the Cottonwood and canyons. The students went to Murray on the street car, were there provided with vehicles, and thence proceeded to Wasatch at the mouth of Little Cottonwood. Here they lunched and made observations of the glacial moraines. They then went up the canyon a mile to study the creek bed and other erosion effects. From the mouth of the canyon they proceeded to Wasatch by the mouth of Big Cottonwood canyon. To conclude the day, observations of the old shore lines were made and a visit paid to the electric power plant.

The first issue of the University Chronicle this school year will appear next Wednesday.

The University Dramatic association has selected for presentation the comedy, "The Weaker Sex."

Dr. Talmage addressed the Normal society last Friday.

The annual recess will occur on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

Harold Eldridge, a university boy, leaves for Germany in the near future to study music.

The university contractor for the new buildings, Mr. W. H. Roney, broke ground for the new site last Monday morning. Excavations for the foundations of the new buildings will be made at once.

The Utah Microscopical society will meet next Friday, night, in the lecture room of the laboratory building.

The board of regents of the university will hold a meeting next Tuesday to hear reports from the buildings committee.

Agricultural College.

A consignment of new books, the latest fiction, criticism and utterances on educational problems has just been received at the library.

Saturday evening President Tanner gave an interesting lecture in the college chapel on the Holy Land. Mr. Dryden made the stereoscopic views.

Mr. R. G. Larsen, who has for a long time been connected with the horticultural department, has just resigned to go abroad on a mission.

High School.

The programme Wednesday morning consisted of exercises by the pupils.

Leone Pratt recited "Dad's Fiddle" in a creditable manner, after which Edwin Puzey read a paper on "Krugger and the Rand." The latter was very well prepared and showed good thought expressed in good English. The essay was originally prepared as regular class work in English, and was read just as first handed in.

The morning's exercises closed with a song by the school, "America." The students sang with a very particular satisfaction from this, in that it was the first school chorus of the year.

Principal Call of the Richfield schools was a visitor Wednesday in the department of English, mathematics and Latin.

President Nelson of the school board was one of last week's visitors, and supplemented the work in psychology class with reminiscences that were very apropos.

Mr. W. H. Hoff of Cincinnati was a caller last week.

The boys' and girls' choruses, with Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel, both report satisfactory progress, and it is expected that one or both of these will appear upon the programme next Wednesday morning.

The first reports of the year were given out last Monday.

Provo, Nov. 11.—Thursday Apostle Woodruff addressed the students for a short time.

President Cluff has been in Beaver the last few days.

Professor Wolfe has just received word of the death of his mother in New York.

Barlow Ferguson visited school today. He can hardly be called the vast improvement since his time.

Steps are being taken by the Athletic association to acquire possession of an eight-acre lot, just west of the building.

The teachers in English are making an effort to secure good books for the students at the lowest rate possible. Club rates have been formed, which will probably result in the purchase of 400 books from a firm in Chicago.

Professor Hickman's lecture on astronomy before the Pedagogum last Friday evening was listened to by a large and enthusiastic audience.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES.
Company C suspended regular Tuesday night drill on account of the city election.

Company B held a non-commissioned officers' school and a short drill on Monday night during company A's election.

Letters of appointment were issued Thursday to Captain L. E. Gilbert, First Lieutenant C. G. Forslund and Second Lieutenant Harry Robbins, all of company A.

The following discharges were granted to members of the signal corps upon their own application: Sergeants A. J. Haigh, R. Youngblood, Blaine Hanks, S. C. Birrell, H. A. Hansen and F. L. Mollenhill.

Company B held its usual Wednesday night drill, with an attendance of thirty-two. An informal business meeting was held to perfect the arrangements for the charity rabbit hunt on Thanksgiving day.

Sergeant W. S. B. Gilbert is on ten days' leave of absence, visiting friends in Eureka.

Company C holds its competitive drill for sergeants' school every Tuesday night. The absence of First Sergeant Joseph Winkler.

Company E at Bountiful has changed the date of its ball from Saturday, the 18th, to Thursday, the 16th.

to the war department full records of the military services of the officers deemed eligible for promotion and retirement. The list does not, of course, include all the colonels in the service, nor all of those who were veterans of the civil war, for not all of these are anxious to be retired, even in consideration of the advance in rank. Two of the names that are under consideration are those of Ohio colonels, namely, Colonel Andrew S. Burt, Twenty-fifth infantry, and Colonel Gilbert S. Carpenter of the Eighteenth infantry, both of whom stand well up on the list, and have records of the highest excellence.

HUDYAN

Regulates the Digestive Organs,
Overcomes
Constipation,
Strengthens the Nervous System.

50c.

THE SYMPTOMS OF DIGESTIVE DISORDER VARY ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTIONAL weakness of the individual, and the resulting complications. For constipation, nervousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, tired feeling, backache, coated tongue, nervousness, headache, pale or sallow complexion. Often but two or three of the above symptoms present—it is enough to warn you that serious organic disease is approaching.

HUDYAN is a positive and permanent cure for all stomach disorders. HUDYAN strengthens and stimulates the little glands of the stomach, giving them the power to take hold of the food and to digest it promptly and thoroughly.

The liver is concerned in the preparing of food for assimilation, and when it becomes inactive the bile (which is nature's laxative) passes into the circulation and poisons the system. Constipation results. You become yellow, experience a heaviness of the head, dizziness and nausea.

HUDYAN invigorates the liver, restores it to normal activity. HUDYAN diverts the bile from the blood into its natural channels, relieves the stomach, bringing stomach and liver into harmonious action. HUDYAN cures constipation permanently.

People who suffer from digestive disorders are usually nervous. The characteristic symptoms of a weakened nervous system are sleeplessness, melancholia, mental depression, lack of energy, nervousness, irritability, tremor, nervous headache and dizziness.

HUDYAN is the best remedy for strengthening the nerves and tranquillizing the mind. HUDYAN produces natural sleep, for it insures a proper working of the various organs of the body. HUDYAN contains no opiates nor narcotics. For such remedies do injury. HUDYAN's influence is soon felt as a remarkable gain of strength and nerve quietude.

INDIGESTION.
Hogland, Wash.
Dear Doctor: I want to add my testimony to that of others in favor of your good medicine. It has entirely cured me of stomach trouble, and I feel like a new being. I can eat what I please now, and it doesn't distress me. I am no longer nervous, and sleep easily. Truly, HUDYAN
